

All drugs that prevent parasites prevent heartworm infection.

Grounded or Unfounded?

FACT: Many products that are effective against heartworms prevent intestinal parasites, such as hookworms, roundworms, whipworms, and tapeworms, too. Some also protect against external parasites, such as fleas, ticks, ear mites, and scabies mites. No one product is effective against all of these parasites, however, and not all anti-parasitic drugs protect against heartworms.

BEST STRATEGY: Consult your veterinarian to determine the best protection plan for your pet.

Protection is priceless.
