

Mosquitoes and Heartworms Make a DEADLY Combination

Mosquitoes are on the MOVE!

One of the most common heartworm-carrying mosquitoes, the Asian Tiger mosquito, only arrived in the U.S. in the late 1980s.

Thanks to warmer temps, increased humidity and urbanization, this pest is now in at least 36 states—and continues to spread.

